Redmond Leaders Tout City's Economic Vitality

By Steve Kadel CBN Feature Writer | Jan 10, 2017

The past year was prosperous for Redmond businesses, led by job growth in manufacturing industries that was significantly above state and national levels. The Bend-Redmond metropolitan statistical area ranked in the top 10 of 300 such areas during 2016, Stark noted. In addition, the Milken Institute listed Bend-Redmond as the nation's top-performing small metro area based on wage growth, job growth, healthcare availability and other factors. Read More

The controversial $3 billion corporate tax initiative Measure 97 went down in defeat.

By Hillary Borrud The Oregonian/OregonLive | Nov 11, 2016

The defeat follows a hard-fought campaign that broke Oregon's spending record for ballot initiatives and pitted business interests against the state's largest public employee unions.

Measure 97 would charge certain C corporations a 2.5 percent tax on their gross annual sales in Oregon above $25 million. The measure called for the state to spend the new revenue on education, health care and senior services.

Oregon proposes drop in workers' comp rates

By Kathleen McLaughlinThe Bulletin Published Sep 23, 2016 at 12:01AM / Updated Sep 23, 2016 at 08:41AM

Workers' compensation insurance rates would drop for the fourth straight year in 2017 under a proposal by the Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services.

The average rate, before insurers' profits and other expenses, would decline by 7.2 percent, from $1.10 per $100 of payroll to $1.02 per $100, according to a department announcement... Read More

No on Measure 97

By REDI Staff | Sep 19, 2016

What about Measure 97???? Why a "NO" vote.

Mike Herrick, SVP of Product & Engineering @ Urban Airship

I'm concerned about Measure 97 and the impact it will have on the Oregon Software Industry?.
